

This is a short overview of what the cheatsheet is capable of. The cheatsheet will automatically count all pages and print that with the current page at the bottom. The title in the top left is your documents title. For maximum space use every page can have three columns and the pageborders are reduced. You can extend everything by modifying the „cheatsheet.sty“.

Section
Subsection
Subsubsection

Paragraph Some random text to show minimum space required. This is only an example, everybody who reads this does it to his own harm. We can write here a lot of stuff but it really is only for demonstration.

Lists

Item lists

- This is
- a small list
- to show some
- space

Enumeration Lists

1. This is
2. a small list
3. to show some
4. space

Description Lists

 Show some space

Icons

There are currently two icons you can use

1. ✓ \cmark
2. ✗ \xmark

And it can be used in lists too

- ✓ Checkmark
- ✗ Cross

Boxes

Title This is a little but helpful note you can use to highlight informations

Not all notes need captions.

Warning This is a warning box.

This is a another warning.

Important This might be something important to remember!

Some important boxes don't need caption

Notes can have titles

And a text below.

This note has no title

Need to highlight some words in your text? Now possible in two different styles.

Code

1  main(void){
2      for(int i=0; i<10; i++){
3          //do something here
4              x+= 2;
5      }
6      echo("The loop is finished")
7  }
8
```
